

Social media is not only a trend, but a rapidly growing industry. It leads to addictive behaviour among Internet users and is considered to be the future channel for marketing practices. It is the cheapest form of promotion and advertising and one of the most powerful platforms for social interaction and encouragement. Despite this fact, it is still not fully understood among businesses and marketing experts. This new concept confuses and unsettles many companies and politicians, yet it is already part of the business world with more than 100000 marketers who successfully deliver social media marketing services. The majority of marketing businesses decided to include it in their packages, yet only few companies with a pure focus on social media marketing exist and the growth for social media marketing businesses is also very slow. This report revealed the reasoning and nature of this phenomena. It investigated the concept of social media and proved the existence of a clear business opportunity. Secondary research was performed to gain an understanding of social media and to deliver a business model to exploit the opportunity. A primary research which involved the questioning of more than 802 marketers, 1000 marketing companies and 5000 students not only confirmed previous found data, but also showed how different current competitors respond to this still rising opportunity of social media, yet how profitable they still are. This opportunity assessment has revealed how simple and less risky it is to become an online entrepreneur in social media marketing - preconditioned that planning and the implementation is done appropriately.
